

Transition Coaching

Helping you make the move into a social purpose career or take that next critical role

We make sure talented commercial executives have the support they need to break into the social purpose sector, and that those in the sector keep getting the roles they need to feel satisfied, challenged and purpose-aligned.

We help you to get a strong handle on what you want, capture it in a way that is compelling, put yourself in front of the people that can help you, and secure the job that you want.

“I’m so glad I had career coaching when I did. It took a process that would otherwise have been hit and miss and emotionally stressful, and made it focused, supportive and successful.”

– DAVID STEWART

“It helped me to crystallise my values & sense of purpose, and translate these into a clear picture of what a purposeful, meaningful work & life looked like, with actions.

– CLAIRE MCKENDRICK

“Elise is an exceptional and intuitive guide for professional transitions.

“From the moment I started working with Leadership Space, I felt engaged and committed to my goal of a significant career shift.

The process provides momentum, ensuring I was moving forward. It opened my mind to new paths and opportunities that I hadn't previously considered.

Once I started interviewing, it proved to be a great resource and gave me a significant edge during what was a highly competitive process.”
